How to Invest Like Warren Buffett by Alec Hogg

9781868427154 | Jonathan Ball Publishers | PB | R140

In these turbulent times, investing in shares seems not for the faint-hearted. But for Warren Buffett, investing is about being patient, about prizing value and about investing in good companies and sticking with them. In How to Invest Like Warren Buffett, Alec Hogg provides a concise guide to the wit and wisdom of the man dubbed the 'Oracle of Omaha' and his long-time business partner, Charlie Munger. The book applies the simple approach that Buffett and Munger have used to build Berkshire Hathaway into a conglomerate worth over US$350 billion today, and offers the would-be investor some of the straightforward lessons that have made Warren Buffett the world's greatest self-made billionaire. Alec Hogg has attended many Berkshire Hathaway AGMs and press conferences, experiencing up close the down-to-earth philosophy that has become a byword for successful investing.

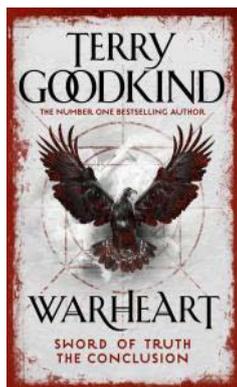

Continental Shift by Kevin Bloom & Richard Poplak

9781868424283 | Jonathan Ball Publishers | TPB | R265

Africa is Failing. Africa is Succeeding. Africa is betraying its citizens. Africa is a place of starvation, corruption and disease. African economies are soaring faster than any on earth. Africa is squandering its bountiful resources. Africa is a roadmap for global development. Africa is turbulent. Africa is stabilising. Africa is doomed. Africa is the future. All of these pronouncements prove equally true and false, as South African journalists Richard Poplak and Kevin Bloom discover on their 9-year road trip through the paradoxical continent they call home. Part detective story, part report from this economic frontier, Continental Shift follows the money as it flows through Chinese coffers to international conglomerates, to heads of state, to ordinary African citizens, all of whom are intent on defining a metamorphosing continent.

The Precious One by Marisa de los Santos

9780061670916 | HarperCollins | TPB | R290

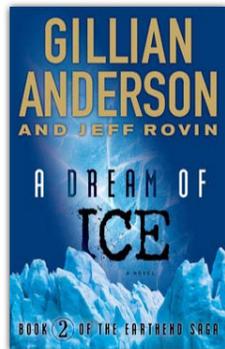

In all her life, Taisy Cleary has given her heart to only three men: her first love, Ben Ransom; her twin brother, Marcus; and Wilson Cleary – philanderer, self-made millionaire, brilliant man, breathtaking jerk: her father. Seventeen years ago, Wilson ditched his family for Caroline, a beautiful young sculptor. In all that time, Taisy's family has seen Wilson, Caroline, and their daughter, Willow, only once. Why then, is Wilson calling Taisy now, encouraging her to meet her pretty sister? Why, now, does Wilson want Taisy to help him write his memoir? Told in alternating voices – Taisy's strong, unsparring observations and Willow's naive, heartbreakingly earnest yearnings – The Precious One is an unforgettable novel of family secrets, lost love, and dangerous obsession.

All Dressed in White by Mary Higgins Clark & Alafair Burke

9781471148699 | Simon & Schuster | TPB | R330

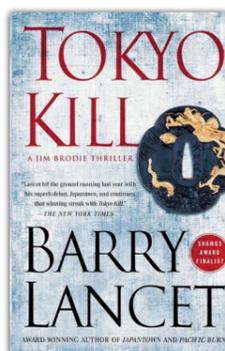

All Dressed in White by Mary Higgins Clark is the second thrilling novel in the bestselling Under Suspicion series following The Cinderella Murder. Five years ago Amanda Pierce was excitedly preparing to marry her college sweetheart in a lavish ceremony. Then, with their guests and families on site, Amanda disappeared. Laurie Moran realises a missing bride is the perfect cold case for her investigative television series, Under Suspicion. She and her team set out to recreate the night of the disappearance with Amanda's friends and family in attendance, hoping to shed new light on the mystery. With a jealous sister, playboy groomsmen, Amanda's former fiancé now married to a bridesmaid, and rumours about the "beloved" bride herself, Laurie quickly realise everyone has a theory about why Amanda vanished into thin air.

A Dream of Ice by Gillian Anderson

9781471137754 | Simon & Schuster | TPB | R330

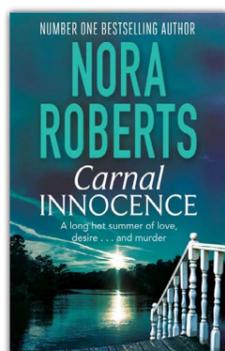

From Gillian Anderson and Jeff Rovin comes A Dream of Ice, the second book in the thrilling paranormal series Earthend Saga that began with A Vision of Fire. After uncovering a mystical link to the ancient civilisation of Galderkhaan, child psychologist Caitlin O'Hara is left with strange new powers. Suddenly she can heal her young patients with her mind and see things from other places and other times. But as she learns more about her powers, she also realises that someone is watching her, perhaps hunting her – and using her son to do it. Meanwhile Mikel Jasso, a field agent for a mysterious research organisation, is searching for Galderkhaani ruins in Antarctica. He discovers the entire city has been preserved under ice and that the stone artifacts he's been collecting are not as primitive as he thought. As Mikel and Caitlin work to uncover the mysteries of the Galderkhaani, they realise that the person hunting Caitlin and the stones may be connected.

Tokyo Kill by Barry Lancet

9781451691733 | Simon & Schuster | TPB | R370

When an elderly World War II veteran shows up unannounced at Brodie Security begging for protection, the staff thinks he's just a paranoid old man. Fresh off his involvement in solving San Francisco's Japantown murders, antiques dealer Jim Brodie had returned to Tokyo for some R&R, not to take on another case with his late father's P.I. firm. But out of respect for the old soldier, Brodie agrees to provide a security detail. Then, an unexpected brutal murder rocks Brodie and his crew, sending them deep into the realm of the Triads, Chinese spies, kendo warriors, and an elusive group of killers whose treachery spans centuries – and who will stop at nothing to complete their mission.

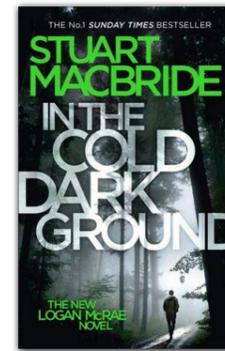

Carnal Innocence by Nora Roberts

9781473617582 | Orion | TPB | R360

Strangers don't stay strangers for long in Innocence, Mississippi, as witty, urbane, and beautiful Caroline Waverly is quick to discover. Fame has taken its toll on the celebrated concert violinist, what with grueling tours and high-pressure performances, climaxing in an all-too-public breakup with the world-class conductor who is also her lover... All Caroline wants from her stay in Innocence is a chance to be out of the spotlight – to live quietly in her family's secluded old bayou home with its lace-curtained windows and shady front porch. But she is about to learn that secrets have no place to hide, and in the heat of a steamy summer night it only takes a single spark to ignite a deadly crime of passion.

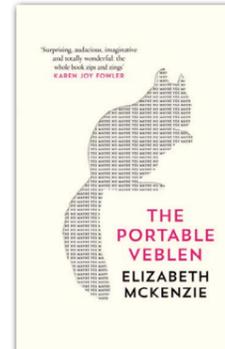

February Fiction

In the Cold Dark Ground by Stuart MacBride

9780007494668 | HarperCollins | TPB | R330

Sergeant Logan McRae is in trouble... His missing-persons investigation has just turned up a body in the woods – naked, hands tied behind its back, and a bin bag duct-taped over its head. The Major Investigation Team charges up from Aberdeen, under the beady eye of Logan's ex-boss Detective Chief Inspector Steel. And, as usual, she wants him to do her job for her. But it's not going to be easy: a new Superintendent is on her way up from the Serious Organised Crime Task Force, hell-bent on making Logan's life miserable; Professional Standards are gunning for Steel; and Wee Hamish Mowat, head of Aberdeen's criminal underbelly, is dying – leaving rival gangs from all over the UK eying his territory.

The Portable Veblen by Elizabeth McKenzie

9780008160630 | HarperCollins | TPB | R320

Meet Veblen: a passionate defender of the anti-consumerist views of her name-sake, the iconoclastic economist Thorstein Veblen. She's an experienced cheerer-upper (mainly of her narcissistic, hypochondriac, controlling mother), an amateur translator of Norwegian, and a firm believer in the distinct possibility that the plucky grey squirrel following her around can understand more than it lets on. Meet her fiancé, Paul: the son of good hippies who were bad parents, a no-nonsense, high-flying neuroscientist with no time for squirrels. His recent work on a device to minimise battlefield trauma has led him dangerously close to the seductive Cloris Hutmacher, heiress to a pharmaceuticals empire, who is promising him fame and fortune through a shady-sounding deal with the Department of Defence. What could possibly go wrong?

Dead Secret by Ava McCarthy

9780007363919 | HarperCollins | PBO | R220

Dead Secret by Ava McCarthy is the perfect gripping psychological suspense novel. Perfect for fans of Elizabeth Haynes and Gone Girl. Two quick shots. One for him. One for you. After the death of her three-year-old daughter, Jodie has nothing left to live for – or almost nothing. She has one task to fulfil before she takes her own life. And that's to kill the man she holds responsible for her daughter's death – her seemingly perfect husband, Ethan. But Ethan is hiding more than just his true nature. And as more horrifying secrets from his past emerge, Jodie's strength will be pushed to the limit.

All the Stars in the Heavens by Adriana Trigiani

9781471136351 | Simon & Schuster | TPB | R320

Clark Gable, Loretta Young, Spencer Tracy, David Niven, Carole Lombard lead a magnificent cast of characters, real and imagined, in Adriana Trigiani's new novel set in the rich landscape of 1930s' Los Angeles. All the Stars in the Heavens is a spectacular saga as radiant, thrilling and beguiling as Hollywood itself, Trigiani takes us back to the golden age of movie-making and into the complex and glamorous world of a young actress hungry for fame, success – and love. With meticulous, beautiful detail, she paints a rich landscape, where European and American artisans flocked to pursue the ultimate dream: to tell stories on the silver screen.

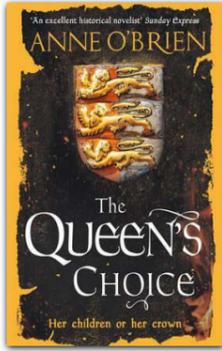

Someone Out There by Catherine Hunt

9780008165253 | HarperCollins | PBO | R220

A story of obsession, revenge and deceit of a woman caught up in terrifying circumstances. Perfect for fans of The Girl on the Train, by Paula Hawkins, and The Lie by C. L. Taylor. Laura Maxwell appears to have it all – perfect career, perfect husband, perfect life. But how well do you really know the people around you? All it takes is one tiny crack to shatter the whole façade. A series of accidents causes Laura to believe that someone is deliberately targeting her, trying to harm her. Fear starts to pervade every part of her life, affecting her work and her marriage, and she feels increasingly isolated. If no one believes Laura's story, who will be there to protect her when her attacker closes in for the kill?

Mademoiselle Chanel by C. W. Gortner

9780062356437 | HaperCollins | TBP | R290

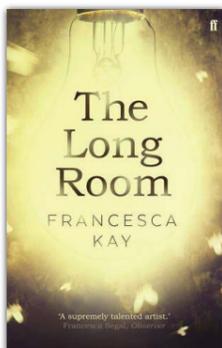

Born into rural poverty, Gabrielle Chanel and her sisters are sent to a convent orphanage after their mother's death. The nuns of the order nurture Gabrielle's exceptional sewing skills, a talent that would propel the wilful young woman into a life far removed from the drudgery of her childhood. Burning with ambition, the petite brunette transforms herself into Coco, by day a hard-working seamstress and by night a singer in a nightclub, where her incandescence draws in a wealthy gentleman who becomes the love of her life. She immerses herself in his world of money and luxury, discovering a freedom that sparks her creativity. But it is only when her lover takes her to Paris that Coco discovers her destiny. Mademoiselle Chanel tells the true story of Chanel's extraordinary ambition, passion, and artistic vision.

Beside Myself by Ann Morgan

9781408870303 | Bloomsbury | TPB | R330

Helen and Ellie are identical twins – like two peas in a pod, everyone says. The girls know this isn't true, though: Helen is the leader and Ellie the follower. Until they decide to swap places: just for fun, and just for one day. But Ellie refuses to swap back...And so begins a nightmare from which Helen cannot wake up. Her toys, her clothes, her friends, her glowing record at school, the favour of her mother and the future she had dreamed of are all gone to a sister who blossoms in the approval that used to belong to Helen. And as the years pass, she loses not only her memory of that day but also herself – until eventually only 'Smudge' is left.

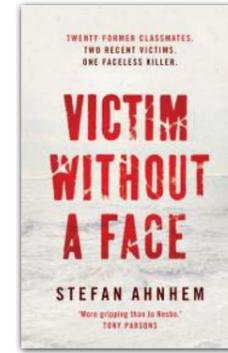

The Long Room by Francesca Kay

9780571322510 | Faber & Faber | TPB | R295

What happens to a man who has his ear pressed to the lives of others but not much life of his own? When Stephen Donaldson joins the Institute, he anticipates excitement, romance and new status. Instead he gets the tape-recorded conversations of ancient communists and ineffectual revolutionaries, until the day he is assigned a new case: the ultra-secret Phoenix. Is Phoenix really working for a foreign power? Stephen hardly cares; it is the voice of the target's wife that mesmerises him. As beautiful as it is intense, The Long Room is the dazzling new novel from an award-winning writer. With her mastery of the perfect detail, Francesca Kay explores a mind under pressure and the compelling power of imagination.

Victim Without a Face by Stefan Ahnhem

9781784975494 | Head of Zeus | TPB | R345

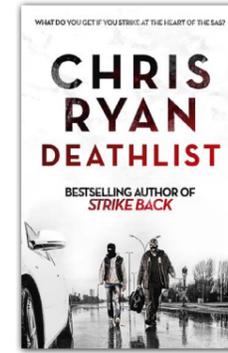

A Killer With A Message. The first victim was a bully who liked using his fists. The second was a thug who favoured steel-capped boots. Their bodies bore the marks of a killer who knew their sins. A single clue was left at the scene: a class photo from 1982, with two faces neatly crossed out. A Detective Who Can't Let Go. There are eighteen men and women in the photo who are still alive – and one of them is the lead detective on the case. Fabian Risk thought he'd left his schooldays behind. Now his classmates are dying for the sins of their childhood ... Who is the faceless killer who's come back to haunt them? Can You Ever Hide From Justice?

Invader by Simon Scarrow

9781472213693 | Headline | TPB | R385

Invader by Simon Scarrow is a tense, action-packed adventure with the Roman army officer Figulus in the heart of barbaric first-century Britannia. Roman Britain, AD 44. The land is far from tamed. A puppet king is doing little to calm the hatred of the native tribes and bring them under Roman rule. Fighting is in Optio Horatius Figulus' blood. His Celtic ancestry is mocked by his fellow soldiers, but it gives him the toughness essential for survival. That toughness will be tested to the very limit when he is sent on a mission deep in hostile territory. And Figulus understands the Celtic mind. He knows that, even utterly crushed in battle, their warriors routed and the Druids driven from their hill forts, the tribesmen of Britannia will sooner die than surrender.

Alive, Alive Oh!: And Other Things That Matter by Diana Athill

9781783782543 | Faber & Faber | HB | R360

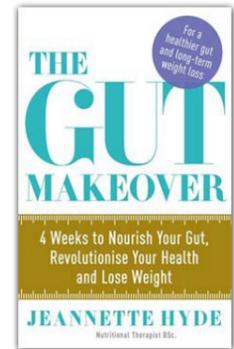

Alive, Alive Oh!: And Other Things That Matter by Diana Athill is a luminous, wise, and joyful insight into what really matters at the end of a long life, from the beloved author of the award-winning Somewhere Towards the End. Diana Athill charmed readers with her prize-winning memoir Somewhere Towards the End, which transformed her into an unexpected literary star. Now, on the eve of her ninety-eighth birthday, Athill has written a sequel every bit as unsentimental, candid, and beguiling as her most beloved work. A pure joy to read, Alive, Alive Oh! Sparkles with wise and often very funny reflections on the condition of being old. Athill reminds us of the joy and richness of every stage of life – and what it means to live life fully, without regrets.

Dilbert: Optimism Sounds Exhausting by Scott Adams

9781449463007 | Simon & Schuster | HB | R360

Dilbert, the cubicle-dwelling drone, is at his satirical best with this new collection of cartoons. Dilbert has managed to keep up with technology like iPads and Twitter over the years, as well as advanced systems like the Disaster Preparedness Plan that has its followers eating the crumbs from their keyboards. It doesn't get any more sophisticated than that. It's an office code violation to be this good after so many years, but Dilbert keeps doing what he does best: passive-aggressively out-witting his superiors and exercising conflict avoidance. And he is so good. No wonder office drones and workforce automata alike can't resist the cold embrace of Dilbert's workplace.

Zen Penguins by Jonathan Chester

9781449469238 | Simon & Schuster | HB | R195

“The obstacle is the path.” “Live the life in front of you.” “Be Still. Stay Chill.” What better creature to teach us to live in the moment and be flexible and chill out (so we won’t flip out!) than the biped birds at the bottom of the earth? Penguins are intuitive, practical, and cooperative; they naturally know the art of keeping chill. Jonathan Chester’s renowned penguin photography whimsically illustrates the sage Zen wisdom presented here in every enlightened spread. With their preternatural composure, it’s easy to imagine penguins as little Zen masters. They are patient, tolerant, aware of their surroundings, and live in the moment...all tenets of the Zen philosophy. A penguin’s life is not an easy life, and yet the Zen masters of the Antarctic waddle on. What can they teach us? As this little book shows, quite a lot actually.

Hillary Rodham Clinton by Karen Blumenthal

9781408873823 | Bloomsbury | HB | R330

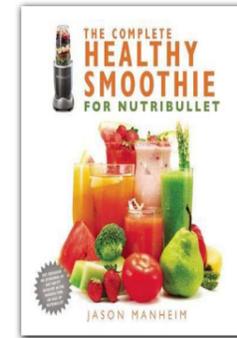

“Always aim high, work hard, and care deeply about what you believe in. . . . And, when you’re knocked down, get right back up and never listen to anyone who says you can’t or shouldn’t go on.” -Hillary Rodham Clinton. As a young girl growing up in the fifties, Hillary Diane Rodham had an unusual upbringing for the time-her parents told her, “You can do or be whatever you choose, as long as you’re willing to work for it.” Hillary took those words and ran. Whether it was campaigning at the age of thirteen in the 1964 presidential election, receiving a standing ovation and being featured in LIFE magazine as the first student commencement speaker at Wellesley, or graduating from Yale Law School-she was always one to stand out from the pack.

First Bite: How We Learn to Eat by Bee Wilson

9780007549702 | HarperCollins | TPB | R330

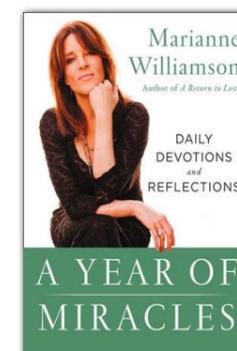

We are not born knowing what to eat; we each have to figure it out for ourselves. From childhood onwards, we learn how big a portion is and how sweet is too sweet. But how does this happen? What are the origins of taste? And once we acquire our food habits, can we ever change them for the better? In First Bite, award-winning food writer Bee Wilson draws on the latest research from food psychologists, neuroscientists and nutritionists to reveal how our food habits are shaped by a whole host of factors. The way we learn to eat holds the key to why food has gone so disastrously wrong for so many people. But Bee Wilson also shows that both adults and children have immense potential for learning new, healthy eating habits.

Rescue at Los Baños by Bruce Henderson

9780062325075 | HarperCollins | TPB | R290

Rescue at Los Banos by Bruce Henderson is the incredible true story of one of the greatest military rescues of all time, the 1945 World War II prison camp raid at Los Banos in the Philippines-a tale of daring, courage, and heroism that joins the ranks of Ghost Soldiers, Unbroken, and The Boys of Pointe du Hoc. In February 1945, as the U.S. victory in the Pacific drew nearer, the Japanese army grew desperate, and its soldiers guarding U.S. and Allied POWs more sadistic. Starved, shot and beaten, many of the 2,146 prisoners of the Los Banos prison camp in the Philippines-most of them American men, women and children-would not survive much longer unless rescued soon. General Douglas MacArthur assigned to the 11th Airborne Division a dangerous rescue mission deep behind enemy lines that became a deadly race against the clock.

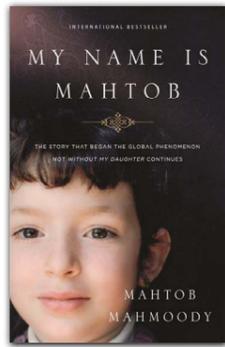

A Year of Miracles by Marianne Williamson

9780062205513 | HarperCollins | TPB | R310

My Name is Mahtob by Mahtob Mahmoody

9780751563375 | Sphere | TPB | R385

Two decades ago, Not Without My Daughter (a global phenomenon made into a film starring Sally Field) told of the daring escape of an American mother and her six-year-old child from an abusive and fanatical Iranian husband and father. Now the daughter tells the whole story, not only of her imprisonment and escape but of life after fleeing Iran: living in fear of re-abduction, battling recurring nightmares and panic attacks, taking on an assumed name, surviving life-threatening illness – all under the menacing shadow of her father. This is the story of an extraordinary young woman's triumph over life-crushing trauma to build a life of peace and forgiveness. Moving from Michigan to Tehran, from Ankara to Paris, Mahtob reveals the profound resilience of a wounded soul healed by her faith in God's goodness and His care and love for her.

Presence by Amy Cuddy

9781409156017 | Orion | TPB | R360

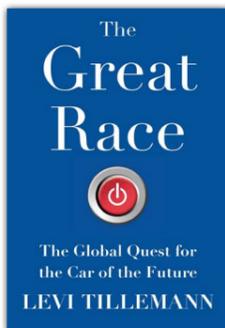

How can we be our strongest selves in life's most challenging situations? We often approach these situations – job interviews, difficult conversations, speaking up for ourselves – with anxiety and leave them with regret. Moments that require us to be genuine and powerful instead cause us to feel phoney and powerless, preventing us from being our best selves. Harvard professor Amy Cuddy shows us we need to stop worrying about the impression we're making on others, and instead change the impression we're making on ourselves. Cutting-edge science reveals that if we adopt behaviours reflecting power and strength, we liberate ourselves from the fears and doubts that obstruct us. By redirecting our thoughts, actions, and even physiology, we free ourselves to be our best.

Always Hungry? by David Ludwig

9781473617582 | Orion | TPB | R385

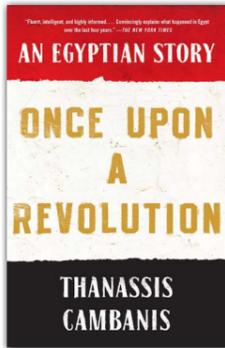

Always Hungry? will be both a relief and a revelation to many who struggle with weight. We're not getting fat because we're overeating; we're overeating because we're getting fat. In other words, what makes us constantly hungry, overweight, and undernourished is not a lack of will power, but a biological reaction to our present-day diet and lifestyle. Our fat cells are hoarding the nutrients from the food we eat instead of releasing them into the bloodstream to be used, triggering a starvation response that sets us up for failure: if we eat more, we'll gain weight; if we eat less, we'll slow our metabolism down and (again) gain weight. HELP!

The Great Race by Levi Tillemann

9781476773506 | Simon & Schuster | TPB | R320

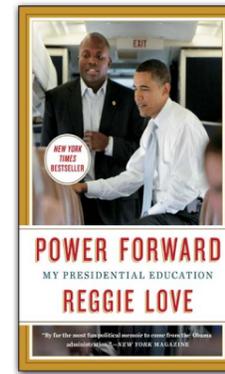

The Great Race by Levi Tillemann recounts the story of a century-long battle among automakers for market share, profit, and technological dominance and the thrilling race to build the car of the future. The world's great manufacturing juggernaut – the $3 trillion automotive industry – is in the throes of a revolution. Its future will include cars Henry Ford and Karl Benz could scarcely imagine. They will drive themselves, won't consume oil, and will come in radical shapes and sizes. But the path to that future is fraught. The top contenders are two traditional manufacturing giants, the US and Japan, and a newcomer, China. Team America has a powerful and little-known weapon in its arsenal: a small group of technology buffs and regulators from California.

Once Upon A Revolution by Thanassis Cambanis

9781451659009 | Simon & Schuster | TPB | R320

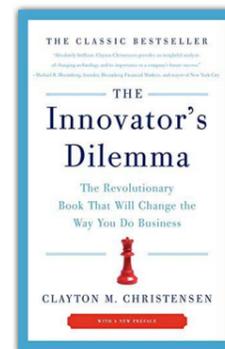

Award-winning journalist Thanassis Cambanis tells the “wonderfully readable and insightful” (Booklist, starred review) inside story of the 2011 Egyptian revolution. Cambanis brings to life the noble dreamers who brought Egypt to the brink of freedom, and the dark powerful forces that – for the time being – stopped them short. But he also tells a universal story of inspirational people willing to transform themselves in order to transform their society. He focuses on two pivotal leaders: One is Basem, an apolitical middle-class architect who puts his entire family in danger when he seizes the chance to improve his country. The other is Moaz, a contrarian Muslim Brother who defies his own organisation to join the opposition. These revolutionaries had little more than their idealism with which to battle the secret police, the old oligarchs, and a power-hungry military determined to keep control.

Power Forward by Reggie Love

9781476763354 | Simon & Schuster | TPB | R300

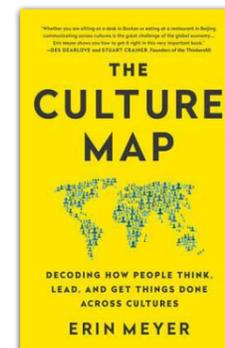

Power Forward is a compelling professional coming-of-age story from Reggie Love, the man who spent more time with Barack Obama during his historic first campaign and term than anyone else. Reggie Love is a unique witness to history, whose introduction to Washington was working in Junior Senator Barack Obama's mailroom. As body man to Obama during his first presidential campaign, Love's job was to stay one step behind the candidate, but think and act three steps ahead during a typical eighteen-hour workday. As President Obama's personal aide during that momentous first term, Love sat yards from the Oval Office and often spent more time with the President than anyone else. While his experiences were unique, the lessons he learned during his tenure with the President are universal. Persistence. Responsibility. Passion for a cause greater than yourself. In short, maturity.

The Innovator's Dilemma by Clayton M. Christensen

9781633691780 | Harvard Business Review | TPB | R575

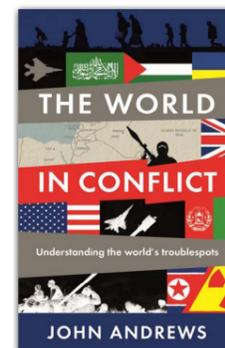

From Steve Jobs to Jeff Bezos, Clay Christensen's work continues to underpin today's most innovative leaders and organisations. His work is cited by the world's best-known thought leaders, from Steve Jobs to Malcolm Gladwell. In this classic bestseller – one of the most influential business books of all time – innovation expert Clayton Christensen shows how even the most outstanding companies can do everything right – yet still lose market leadership. Christensen explains why most companies miss out on new waves of innovation. No matter the industry, he says, a successful company with established products will get pushed aside unless managers know how and when to abandon traditional business practices. Offering both successes and failures from leading companies as a guide, The Innovator's Dilemma gives you a set of rules for capitalising on the phenomenon of disruptive innovation.

The Culture Map by Erin Meyer

9781610392761 | Profile Books | HB | R395

Whether you work in a home office or abroad, business success in our ever more globalised and virtual world requires the skills to navigate through cultural differences and decode cultures foreign to your own. Renowned expert Erin Meyer is your guide through this subtle, sometimes treacherous terrain where people from starkly different backgrounds are expected to work harmoniously together. When you have Americans who precede anything negative with three nice comments; French, Dutch, Israelis, and Germans who get straight to the point; Latin Americans and Asians who are steeped in hierarchy; – the result can be, well, sometimes interesting, even funny, but often disastrous. In The Culture Map, Erin Meyer provides a field-tested model for decoding how cultural differences impact international business.

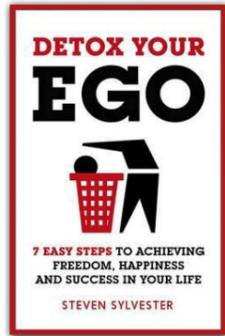

Economist: The World in Conflict by John Andrews

9781781253687 | Profile Books | TPB | R440

So far in the twenty-first century, the USA and its allies have invaded Afghanistan; Russia has waged war with Georgia; the brutal Islamic State (IS) has emerged in the Middle East; and a constant contest for precious minerals in Africa has provoked – and financed – war and carnage. Other conflicts are less bloody, but still dangerous – the nervous stand-off between India and Pakistan in Kashmir, for instance, or the continuing stalemate between North and South Korea. Whether explosive or simmering, the number of violent conflicts in the world is high enough to surprise, intrigue and sober any reader. In The World in Conflict, John Andrews tackles head-on the reasons why global conflict is ever-present in our lives. He analyses today's conflicts region by region, considering the causes, contexts, participants, impacts and likely outcomes.

Walking the Himalayas by Levison Wood

9781473626256 | Hodder & Stoughton | TPB | R385

From the bestselling author of Walking the Nile, explorer Levison Wood begins his next challenging adventure – walking the length of the Himalayas. Levison Wood's most challenging expedition yet begins along the Silk Road route of Afghanistan and travels through five countries. Following in the footsteps of the great explorers, Levison walks the entire length of the Himalayas in an adventure of survival and endurance. A personal story of discovery, Levison forges strong bonds with local guides, porters, mountain men, soldiers, farmers, smugglers and shepherds. By travelling on foot, and following the same footpaths that locals use, he uncovers stories that might otherwise remain hidden. Along the way he also reveals the history of the Himalayas and two millennia of exploration, and examines a continent in crisis in the 21st century.

The Lovers by Rod Nordland

9781473607002 | Hodder & Stoughton | TPB | R385

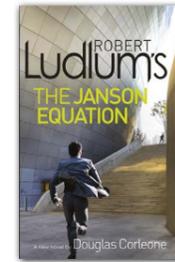

Zakia and Ali grew up as neighbors and fell in love from afar. Defying their families and Afghan custom, the young lovers – both from different Muslim sects – eloped and went into hiding. When Rod Nordland came upon them, he felt obligated, having shared their story in the pages of the New York Times, to help them to safety – but there was a limit to how well he could protect them. Despite more than a decade of American good intentions, women in Afghanistan are still subjected to some of the worst human rights violations in the world. Rod Nordland tells a compelling tale of forbidden love, governmental bungling, and reckless disregard for basic human rights, and illustrates the degree to which misogyny persists in traditional Afghan culture.

The Wisdom of Groundhog Day by Paul Hannam

9781473619197 | Hodder & Stoughton | TPB | R280

Paul Hannam has developed a programme based on the hidden, underlying roadmap to freedom found in the film Groundhog Day. Using research-based techniques, you will learn how to take control of your day, remove the blinkers and actually see and experience the real world around you, which will in turn enable you to let go of the past and achieve new levels of success. You will learn how to focus on and appreciate the things that truly matter: time, security, mental health and authentic happiness, and discover a life of joy and fulfilment – rather than just going through the motions. Turn every day into the best day of your life.
