First People

The Lost History of the Khoisan

ANDREW SMITH

First people communities are the groups of hunter-gatherers and herders, representing the oldest human lineages in Africa, who migrated from as far as East Africa to settle across southern Africa. These groups, known today as the Khoisan, are represented by the Bushmen (or San) and the Khoe. In First People, archaeologist Andrew Smith examines what we know about southern Africa's earliest inhabitants, drawing on evidence from excavations, rock art, the observations of colonial-era travellers, linguistics, the study of the human genome and the latest academic research.

Richly illustrated, this is an invaluable and accessible work that reaches from the Middle and Late Stone Age to recent times, and explores how the Khoisan were pushed to the margins of history and society. Smith, who is an expert on the history and prehistory of the Khoisan, paints a knowledgeable and fascinating portrait of their land occupation, migration, survival strategies and cultural practices.

Terreur en Bevryding

LEOPOLD SCHOLTZ

Die sleutel tot 'n begrip van die ANC vandag lê in sy historiese verhouding met die Suid-Afrikaanse Kommunistiese Party (SAKP) en sy optrede in ballingskap.

In Terreur en bevryding dui Leopold Scholtz aan hoe die SAKP reeds in 1928 opdrag van die Kremlin ontvang het om die ANC te infiltrer en mettertyd die party se leierskap oor te neem as deel van 'n revolusie in twee fases. Die eerste fase sou 'n nasionaal demokratiese revolusie wees en in die tweede sou die alliansie 'n Marxisties-Leninistiese "diktatuur van die proletariaat" in Suid-Afrika vestig. Volgens Scholtz sou dit 'n immorele stelsel met beperkte vryheid meebring.

Scholtz toon voorts aan hoe die ANC/SAKP-alliansie in ballingskap gekenmerk is deur erge interne intoleransie en korrupsie deur 'n groot deel van die leierskap.

DR LEOPOLD SCHOLTZ is a journalist and an historian.

ABOUT THE BOOK

To understand the ANC today, it's imperative to investigate its historic relationship with the South African Communist Party (SACP) and its history in exile, writes Leopold Scholtz.

He shows how in 1927, the SACP received an instruction from the Kremlin to infiltrate the ANC and take over its leadership as part of a two-phase revolution. In the first phase a national democratic revolution had to take place whereafter a Marxist Leninist 'dictatorship of the proletariat' would be established in South Africa. According to Scholtz this would have led to an immoral system with limited freedom.

Scholtz also shows that the ANC/SACP in exile was characterised by a deadly combination of severe internal intolerance and corruption by a part of the leadership.

Jan Smuts Unafraid of Greatness

RICHARD STEYN

Jan Christiaan Smuts was world famous as a soldier, statesman and intellectual, one of South Africa's greatest leaders. Yet little is said or written about him today, even though we appear to live in a leadership vacuum.

This is a re-examination of Smuts's life and thoughts. It is intended to remind a contemporary readership of the remarkable achievements of this impressive soldier-statesman. Steyn argues that Smuts's role in the creation of modern South Africa should never be forgotten, not least because of his lifetime of devoted service to this country.

This highly readable account of Smuts's eventful life blends fact, anecdote and opinion in an examination of his complex character – his relationships with women, spiritual and intellectual life, and role as adviser to world leaders. Politics and international affairs lie at the heart of this book, but Smuts's unique contributions in a variety of other fields, including botany, conservation and philosophy, also receive attention.

Unforgiven

Face to Face With my Father's Killer

LIZ MCGREGOR

A searing, intimate memoir tracing the author's attempt to find out the truth about her father's murder.

Robin McGregor, an older man living in a small town outside Cape Town, is brutally murdered in his home. Cecil Thomas is convicted for the crime, but his trial leaves more questions than answers. His daughter, Liz, tries to move beyond her grief but she still wants answers. What drove Thomas to torture and kill a complete stranger?

The author meets the murderer's family and discovers that he comes from a loving, comfortable home. He is educated and skilled – there is no apparent reason for his descent into delinquency. After protracted obstruction from the prison authorities, she finally gets to confront him but not without putting herself in danger. She finds answers, but not the answers she is looking for.

Milner

Last of the Empire Builders

RICHARD STEYN

Lord Alfred Milner was a brilliant public servant and one of Britain's most famous empire builders who left an indelible imprint on the history of South Africa.

Milner was a prominent figure in the Anglo-Boer War – a conflict that proved to be the beginning of the end of the British Empire. After the war, a determined Milner set out to reconstruct the country by leaving behind a group of young administrators who contributed to the unification of South Africa, but also resentment among Afrikaners for their mentor's language and education policies.

Back in England, Milner involved himself via the House of Lords in all the great issues of British politics, while continuing to promote the ends of Empire through the activities of the Round Table movement.

This biography, the first by a South African, argues that Milner's reputation should not be defined by his eight years' service in South Africa alone as he did much to shape the Allied victory in the First World War. If his personal qualities and beliefs made him the wrong man to send to South Africa, he was the right man in a far greater international conflict.

Thabo Mbeki

The Dream Deferred
(New Edition)

MARK GEVISSER

The prosperous Mbeki clan lost everything to apartheid. Yet Thabo Mbeki rose to become president of South Africa in 1999. A decade later, Mbeki was ousted by his own party and his legacy is bitterly contested.

Through the story of the Mbeki family, Gevisser tells the gripping tale of the last tumultuous century of South Africa life, following the family's path to make sense of the liberation struggle and the future that South Africa has inherited. At the centre of the story is Mbeki, a visionary yet tragic figure who led South Africa to freedom but was not able to overcome the difficulties of his own dislocated life.

It is 15 years since Mbeki was unceremoniously dumped by the ANC, giving rise to the wasted years under Jacob Zuma. With the benefit of hindsight, and as Mbeki reaches the age of 80, Gevisser examines the legacy of the man who succeeded Mandela.

The Boy Who Never Gave Up

A Refugee's Epic Journey to Triumph

EMMANUEL TABAN WITH ANDREW CROFTS

In 1994, 16-year-old Emmanuel Taban walked out of war-torn Sudan with nothing and nowhere to go after he had been tortured at the hands of government forces, who falsely accused him of spying for the rebels. When he finally managed to escape, he literally took a wrong turn and, instead of being reunited with his family, ended up in neighbouring Eritrea as a refugee.

Over the months that followed, young Emmanuel went on a harrowing journey, often spending weeks on the streets and facing many dangers. Relying on the generosity of strangers, he made the long journey south to South Africa, via Ethiopia, Kenya, Tanzania, Mozambique and Zimbabwe, travelling mostly by bus and on foot.

When he reached Johannesburg, 18 months after fleeing Sudan, he was determined to resume his education. He managed to complete his schooling with the help of Catholic missionaries and entered medical school, qualifying as a doctor, and eventually specialising in pulmonology.

Emmanuel's skill and dedication as a physician, and his stubborn refusal to be discouraged by setbacks, led to an important discovery in the treatment of hypoxaemic COVID-19 patients. By never giving up, this son of Sudan has risen above extreme poverty, racism and xenophobia to become a South African legend. This is his story.

No Fear

Bulelani Ngcuka

MARION SPARG

Based on over 100 hours of interviews with Bulelani Ngcuka, No Fear is unapologetically Bulelani's story. It begins with the pivotal moment in 2003 where he makes the decision not to prosecute then deputy president Jacob Zuma, and moves chronologically through Ngcuka's life – his upbringing, his work as a lawyer during the apartheid years with Griffiths Mxenge, his imprisonment, exile, and return, the release of Nelson Mandela, the 1994 elections, and finally his appointment as head of the National Prosecuting Authority.

We revisit, with fresh insight, the urban terror campaign, bombings, and hijackings, the Arms Deal case, and the political campaigns against Ngcuka, the alleged "apartheid spy", which are still playing out in political fights.

Marion Sparg has written a captivating biography. No Fear is the story of heroes and villains; spies; political manoeuvring; murder; intrigue and love. It's also a grand, sweeping historical background of South Africa and its parities.
